Changes in the Viking Line Cargo team

Viking Line Cargo's Alex Backman resigns and will move on in his career. His last official day at Viking Line, for now, will be September 14th, 2019. The other sales managers will take care of Alex's customer contacts and the ongoing development projects will be divided within the Cargo team. We have started the recruiting process to strengthen the organization and to be able to maintain successful in very competitive cargo market.

We would like to thank Alex for his contribution to Viking Line Cargo and wish him all the best in his future endeavors.
